

Maria D. Georga

Specialist in the International Health Tourism Market - Regional Manager

USA, Central and Eastern Europe, India, China, Japan and other.

Maria D. Georga is a Health Tourism professional, IMTJ article contributor and International Speaker. She is the Regional Manager of LaingBuisson International dealing with its international business sector. The company is a leading company in Health Tourism and has a long & deep expertise in Medical Travel Consultation & Solution projects, International Surveys, Web Media Marketing, Medical Tourism Conferences and Workshops. LaingBuisson though is widely known for www.TreatmentAbroad.com the main gate for patients who are looking for healthcare options abroad and for the International Medical Travel Journal www.Imtj.com the main e-newspaper currently distributed to readers from all over the world.

Mrs Georga is a graduate of a British University with studies in Business Administration. She has attended healthcare related programs at various American Universities, Philosophy in European and other Universities. She is an awarded writer of two books. Her interviews have been published in local and international Web, Press and TV media. She has participated several health tourism events and seminars as an international speaker. Her involvement with ministries, associations and healthcare providers from different destinations has given her an international perspective of Health Tourism.